RARE KINEMACOLOR FILMS RESTORED BY ITALY'S
CINETECA DI BOLOGNA
AT L'IMMAGINE RITROVATA LABORATORY

A unique collection of Kinemacolor films released in DVD and presented at Il Cinema Ritrovato

On Tuesday, June 28th Il Cinema Ritrovato will host the screening of John Huston's *Wise Blood (1979), presented by the producer of the film Michael Fitzgerald and by Angela Allen, script-supervisor who met the public of Il Cinema Ritrovato a few years ago, to present The Third Man by Carol Reed, starring Orson Welles. Michael Fitzgerald will tell us about the production of John Huston's movie during a film lecture taking place on Tuesday, June 29th, at 5 PM in Sala Auditorium (Piazzetta Pasolini).

Still on Tuesday, June 29th, at Il Cinema Ritrovato, Kinemacolor will be brought back to life thanks to the restoration project of the Cineteca di Bologna in collaboration with L'Immagine Ritrovata laboratory which restored 36 films from the original Kinemacolor black and white nitrate positive prints. A green/cyan filter and a red/orange filter were applied to the frames with corresponding densities. The two sets were then brought together, so that a single frame of the restored version now combines the green and red records. Part of this unique collection can be seen at 9 AM at Cinema Arlecchino, and at 11 PM, in Sala Auditorium, it will be presented the DVD set containing the entire collection of 36 restored Kinemacolor films published by Cineteca di Bologna.
